Programme Description & Objectives

The upcoming online MDP will shed light on various sustainable technologies used in industries. Adapting to climate-friendly practices is essential for industries to survive and thrive in the long run. In addition, it contributes to building a positive reputation in society. With environmental degradation and the looming threat of climate change, businesses are facing increasing pressure to provide accurate information about their social and ecological impacts. Starting in 2022, SEBI has mandated the top 1000 listed firms to follow ESG guidelines, requiring them to disclose economic, social, and environmental consequences. To meet the requirements of Sustainable Development Goals and to achieve net-zero targets, transitioning to green technologies is critical. During the session, the process of managing technological change will also be demonstrated.
